

Get to know ALL of your benefits

Focus: Health-related services funds

Columbia Pacific CCO wants to make sure your unique health needs are addressed, so you are as healthy as possible. That's why your benefits include access to a fund for what the Oregon Health Plan (OHP) calls "health-related services."

This fund covers items or services that will help keep you healthy, and that you might not expect would be paid for by your health plan.

Real-life examples

Health-related services funds help you get and stay healthy. Here are some examples:

Phone/video appointments: A cell phone, tablet, an internet connection for better access to providers, etc.

Food support: Meal delivery, food vouchers, farmers market funds, etc.

Housing support: Furniture, application fees for housing or a state-issued ID, moving costs, etc.

Living environment: Air conditioners, athletic shoes, items that improve mobility, etc.

Comfort items: Weighted blankets, sleep aids, vouchers for yoga classes, etc.

These funds are meant to fill needs until a permanent plan is in place.

Steps for requesting funds

- 1 Talk to your provider or care coordinator about what's keeping you from getting and staying healthy. Members of your care team can help you make requests for health-related services funds. You can also call Customer Service to help you make a request.
- 2 If your diagnosis or treatment calls for an item or service not otherwise included in your health coverage, they'll fill out a form on our website to make the request. Customer Service can also help you send us the request.
- 3 We'll let you and the person who made the request know if your request is approved.
